Dear Sir/Madam

Success Manthra, a training and development organisation, has been delivering English language training programs for over a decade and has now joined hands with the famous storyteller Geeta Ramanujam of Kathalaya to bring the art of story-telling to educators in Chennai.

As educators, we all know the power of stories. Stories can be used for imparting life-skills, honing listening and speaking skills and for developing the personality of students. It can also be an effective pedagogic tool in the hands of teachers and can transform the teaching-learning experience in unimaginable ways. Since English language teaching vis-à-vis learning is facing a host of challenges, we have developed a new strategy for empowering teachers by integrating storytelling techniques into their teaching methodology.

In this context, we extend a cordial invitation to you to participate in a free 'Storytelling for Language Development' demonstration session to be conducted by Geeta Ramanujam.
